

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Contributors	vii
Foreword	xi
Introduction	1

Part One: Embracing the Questions

1. Education and Evangelism: Is the Connection Essential? Diane J. Hymans Trinity Lutheran Seminary	11
2. What Are the Theological Foundations of Education and Evangelism? Margaret A. Krych The Lutheran Theological Seminary at Philadelphia	22
3. How Do We Make the Gospel Come Alive through Education and Evangelism? Carol R. Jacobson Pacific Lutheran Theological Seminary	34
4. How Do We Move from Apathy to Transformation? Donald R. Just The Lutheran Seminary Program in the Southwest	43

Part Two: Exploring the Possibilities

5. Congregations That Take Both Education and Evangelism Seriously Mary E. Hughes Trinity Lutheran Seminary	53
6. Christian Education as Evangelism in a Multicultural Setting Eddie K. Kwok The Lutheran Theological Seminary in Saskatoon	64
7. Reaching Out Through Lutheran Schools Nelson T. Strobert Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg	75
8. Abiding in the Word for the Sake of the World Phyllis N. Kersten Lutheran School of Theology at Chicago	87

Part Three: Claiming the Challenge

9. Go and Make Learners! Supporting Transformation in Education and Evangelism	101
Mary E. Hess
Luther Seminary
10. Go and Listen: Reaching Out to Those Who Seek—Especially Young Adults	112
Kristine A. Lund
Waterloo Lutheran Seminary
11. Learn to Share Christ in the Languages of People’s Daily Lives	122
Norma Cook Everist
Wartburg Theological Seminary
12. Rededicate Ourselves to Our Calling in Education: A Social Statement	134
Susan Wilds McArver
Lutheran Theological Southern Seminary
Notes	146
Bibliography	158
Index	162